

Sound Seal Acquires California Based Lamvin Inc.

AGAWAM, Mass. – October 31, 2019 – Sound Seal, a leading manufacturer of noise control products serving the industrial, architectural, commercial and construction industries, announced today that they have acquired California based Lamvin Inc. Lamvin was founded in 1961, and has had two generations of family ownership. Based in Oceanside, CA, Lamvin has a robust portfolio of acoustic fabric wrapped panels including custom shaped products, 3D panels and a wide variety of acoustic polyester products. Through this acquisition, Sound Seal will gain a strong architectural brand and outstanding west coast manufacturing capabilities.

“This acquisition just made sense” said Joe Lupone, CEO of Sound Seal. “With Lamvin, Sound Seal is able to expand our architectural product offering and gain a national manufacturing presence that will allow us to better service and grow the west coast market. Having a brick and mortar facility in California puts us at a strong geographical advantage as we will now be more responsive and better equipped to support our valuable reps and distributors coast to coast.”

Robin Siok-Gray, President of Lamvin, along with the current management team and employees shall remain with the company and day-to-day operations will not change. “We are very excited to join Sound Seal”, said Robin Siok-Gray. “Lamvin has great products and a strong position on the west coast. With the Sales and Marketing resources that will be shared with us, I feel confident that we can expand our brand presence across the country. This is a win-win for both parties and I am excited to get started”.
